

'Currency exchange' by Brimberry?

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

When Thomas R. Brimberry took guests with him to the Caribbean area, on at least one occasion he allegedly gave out large stacks of U.S. currency to various members of his vacation group, the Press-Record has learned from local law enforcement officials, who say they have passed their information on to federal officials.

After all of the Brimberry "guests" had gone through customs on one particular trip, a woman well known to the group opened her purse, walked to each person, and collected the same money that had been distributed, it was learned.

The particular trip involved a stay of less than 24 hours at a resort where legal gambling is conducted, the Press-

Record was told; no money was exchanged with anyone on the return trip aboard the private airplane, leading to speculation that the money was left in the Caribbean.

Brimberry is the key figure in a federal probe of the collapse and liquidation of the Stix and Co. stock brokerage, where he was senior vice-president. The Granite City resident and his family are believed to be in protective federal custody, although several persons report having seen him in the area recently.

Not charged with any offense at this time, Brimberry is to be prosecuted for a single unspecified tax felony in return for his cooperation with investigators, U.S. court records show.

The Press-Record has learned that the amount of currency handed to a typical individual on the vacation trip to a destination outside this country may have been in the vicinity of $10,000. A stack of a hundred $100 bills would be about a half-inch thick. Currency of lesser denomination, would require a thicker bundle in order to total $10,000. Five hundred $20 bills, for example, would be harder to handle, accumulating to about two and a half inches in height, depending somewhat on the age and condition of the bills.

Purpose of the currency exchange procedure was not explained to those on the trip, it was learned.

While they were not paid for the financial maneuver that appeared to circumvent customs agents, their travel and hotel costs were paid for by Brimberry, the Press-Record was told; he also offered money for their participation in casino games.

The Internal Revenue Service says Brimberry had annual income exceeding $1 million in some of the years of 1975 through 1980. The brokerage empire collapsed in November 1981 due to looting of a number of its investment accounts.

Brimberry arranged for a million-dollar home to be built here and also gained a reputation as being generous to friends and acquaintances, including "picking up the full tab" for travel to U.S. and foreign vacation areas. Several trips were said to include local political figures among the guests.

Granite City police officials confirm that they have learned unofficially of the currency transfer allegations and have passed them along to federal authorities.

Brimberry in a telephone call to the St. Louis Post-Dispatch on Jan. 10, is said to have verified his identity by furnishing details about himself and aspects of the investigation. Only Brimberry could have known some of the facts related in the phone call.

Following a nationwide trend in the newspaper industry, the price of the Press-Record rises to 25 cents per issue with today's edition. Rising costs for newspaper paper and for distribution have forced many regional newspapers, including the Alton Telegraph, to increase their prices to 25 cents per issue in recent months. This is the first increase in the cost of the Press-Record since 1974.

Act quickly to save downtown

David Nolan, envisioning downtown Granite City with a steel city design or street car theme, gave downtown merchants a "shopping list" of redevelopment priorities while urging them Thursday to begin work immediately on a fading business district.

He asked them to appoint a subcommittee to spearhead a more comprehensive non-profit development group, ready to act within the next six months.

Nineteen general improvement projects are included on the "shopping list" of Nolan, administrative assistant to Mayor Paul Schuler, and Joseph Parente, CETA city planner. The list was presented Thursday to members of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce downtown promotion committee.

In addition to a possible 19th Street walking mall, devoid of parking meters and with "semi-mall" streets branching from that area, recommendations are:

- Demolition of deteriorated houses in the 1900 block of Grand Avenue and south of 18th Street to make room for possible senior citizens' housing or other housing developments.
- Demolition of a building at 19th and State streets, where a city park could possibly be developed.
- A "People's Park" at 19th Street and Delmar Avenue with a bandshell, concession stand and Bicentennial mosaics. Moving the city's main bus shelter from 19th Street and Edison Avenue to the park.

— Relocation of Dave's Taxi to a nearby location and using the property for parking, a sidewalk cafe or new construction.

— Repaving all streets in the redevelopment area.

— Reconstruction of all sidewalks in the downtown area—perhaps a design sidewalk surface.

— Construction of a multi-level parking garage at the 1800 block of Edison or any other close location.

— Strongly advised renovation of upper levels of all buildings to be used for expansion of businesses.

Development of a newsletter providing information on vacancies, developments and public announcements.

— Landscaping of the redevelopment area and employment of a full-time maintenance person.

— Provide drinking fountains, garbage containers and seating.

Blunt in his appraisal of downtown's shortcomings, Nolan said future considerations also should include improvements to the major thoroughfare entrances to the city.

LOVELY STREET. Not a customer or an open store was in sight up or down 19th Street portraying a bleak central business district at 7 on a weekday evening. The street has been tentatively selected as the choice for a walking mall in a budding downtown redevelopment project. This time exposure photo was taken from in front of the proposed "People's Park" at 19th Street and Delmar Avenue. David Nolan, administrative assistant to Mayor Paul Schuler and Joseph Parente, city CETA worker, presented a more detailed plan for the redevelopment of a fading downtown Thursday at the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, asking the downtown merchants to form their own group to take immediate action in combating an area losing its economic stability. ## Proposed multiplier revisions 'unrealistic'

Would a new assessment multiplier plan disclosed by the governor last week multiply the problems of governmental agencies here and throughout Illinois?

Many officials are convinced that the proposal, if enacted into law, would further undermine the financial base that supports their wage costs, their supply purchases and other operating expenses.

In his 1982 "state of the state" address to the General Assembly, Gov. James R. Thompson asked legislators to "retain the state multiplier as a tool to assure uniform property assessments among counties, but also tie local tax rates to the local assessments."

"Thus, local tax rates would be reduced when a multiplier increased assessments within a county.

"The multiplier on assessments would become the divider on tax rates, neutralizing the effect of the multiplier."

There was initial applause from the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois. Douglas Whitley, TFI spokesman, said, "I think it will be good for taxpayers, but it's forbidding to local government. A lot of governments depend on the multiplier to up their assessed valuation and, consequently, their tax revenues. A lot of governments out there want the state to take the heat for the multiplier."

"The proposal transfers the burden for increasing valuation from the state to local assessors."

Whitley said that, on balance, he supports the plan because it "would protect many taxpayers, especially those with new homes that are assessed at the current level" and who pay an excessive amount when a multiplier is applied to their already correct assessment.

State Comptroller Roland W. Burris described it as "positive sounding rhetoric" that no one seriously expects to adopt in an election year.

House Minority Leader Michael Madigan said, "The governor has not given us sufficient information to understand it."

House Speaker George Ryan commented, "If all assessors had done their job in an equal and fair manner, there would be no need for a multiplier."

Thomas Fitzsimmons of the Illinois Municipal League said the state would benefit most from the plan; "if every county assessed at one-third of full value, there would be no dollar impact on local government. But there would be if a county assesses at a lower rate."

Senate President Philip Rock said it would affect "local governments' ability to meet a growing list of demands for local services."

And Ron Cardoni of the Illinois Association of School Boards said, "The local dollars would be gone as a result of underassessment, and I don't think public schools are able to take any drop in local funds."

Area public officials seem agreed that linking assessment multipliers to rates would keep income on a plateau while costs continued to rise with inflation.

"Many things cost more each year," a Granite City official remarked. "When Social Security goes up, the share we pay increases. If we cannot fully extend taxes, we cannot meet our costs."

An example cited by Gov. Thompson involves a governmental body with a $190 million assessment base, and a $2 property tax rate per $100 of valuation. If it was found that full property value is $600 million, and that the 31.7 percent assessment should be raised to $200 million through a 1.05 multiplier, the valuation would be equalized in that fashion, providing $4 million in annual tax revenue.

Under the governor's plan, the 1.05 multiplier would be taken into account, cutting the allowable rate to $1.90 instead of $2 per $100.

This would reduce actual revenue by $200,000, from the previous $4 million to $3,800,000.

On a $100,000 home assessed at $31,700, application of the multiplier would result in an equalized valuation of $33,333, meeting the ideal level of one-third. But the tax bill would drop from $666 to $653.

Fatal crash on Highway 203

A Center Bank assistant vice-president, Timothy Price Markel, 31, of 3349 Colgate Place, Granite City, suffered fatal internal injuries in a traffic collision at 10:15 p.m. Friday. He was rushed to St. Elizabeth Medical Center and taken to surgery, succumbing at 2:30 a.m. Saturday in the operating room.

He was injured about the abdomen and right side. His death was believed to have been caused by separation of the vena cava from the diaphragm area.

Mr. Markel, alone in his auto, was northbound on Illinois Route 203 about 100 feet south of the McCambridge Avenue viaduct near Madison.

State troopers at the scene said a head-on collision occurred with the southbound car of Lora A. Waako, 33, of 85 High Point, Belleville. They said the Granite City's car may have skidded across the center line of the four-lane roadway. Lora Waako was the lone occupant of her auto.

The Belleville woman, also taken by Granite City ambulance to the medical center, was admitted as a patient and underwent surgery on Saturday morning.

She had abrasions to the forehead, left leg and left elbow, with cuts to the left knee and lower lip, a headache and pain in the left side of the jaw.

Mr. Markel had worked for ten years at Center Bank, the former First National Bank in St. Louis.

A Granite City resident eight and a half years, the Alton native and SIUE graduate was a member of Elks Lodge 1063 here.

Mr. Markel is survived by his wife, the former Jo Marie Harding; a son, Joseph, four years old; a daughter, Emily, two years old; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Markel of Alton; and one sister, Mrs. Raymond (Juanita) Robinson of Alton.

Alton Masonic services and Granite City Elks services are planned this evening at a Granite City funeral home, where funeral services will be held at 1 p.m. tomorrow. Additional information is given in the obituary column of today's Press-Record.

RECOVERY OPERATIONS. The search for victims of the Air Florida jetliner crash in Washington, D.C., last week into the Potomac River includes an Army ribbon bridge assembly provided by the 902nd Floot Bridge Company, Ft. Belvoir, Va. A similar ribbon bridge underwent fast-water testing near Mosenheim Island here by same float bridge company in April, 1980, shown above. Forty-six bodies had been recovered in Washington as of Sunday, with another 28 bodies yet to be found.

SS 433: a strange and unique 'star'?

By PROFESSOR F. HENRY FIRSCHING
SIUE School of Science and Engineering

Astronomers are delighted and excited about an unusual object found in our galaxy. It is about 13,000 light years away and is routinely classified as a 14th magnitude star. However, the detailed spectra of this peculiar object is unlike anything seen before and is challenging the imagination of astronomers. Considerable progress in understanding this object has been made, but the situation is far from being completely solved.

With any glowing celestial object, the spectra would be expected to contain the lines of hydrogen and helium, because they are, by far, the most numerous elements in the universe. As expected, the spectra of SS 433 does contain these lines in their usual relative positions.

But the odd feature about the spectra is that each line of hydrogen and helium is bracketed with two companion lines. Apparently the Doppler effect is operating. These extra lines appear to be the spectra of hydrogen and helium that have both red-shifted and blue-shifted in the same object. The blue-shifted lines indicate that matter is being accelerated toward the earth, while the red-shifted lines indicate that matter is receding from the earth. Both acceleration toward recession from the earth are occurring in the same object.

In order for these lines to be displaced by the Doppler shift to the degree that they have been, the matter had to be accelerated to about 10 percent of the velocity of light, with respect to the earth. This is about 100 times faster than any known velocity in our galaxy. This object appears to be about 13,000 light years away and is classified as a 14th magnitude star.

An estimate of the energy needed to propel the hydrogen and helium at the high velocities they attain, indicates that the object is expending about a million times the total energy radiated by our sun. That is an enormous amount of energy.

Super-imposed on this unusual situation is a continual variation of the adjacent, Doppler-shifted lines with respect to the normal line. Both the blue-shifted and red-shifted lines gradually and smoothly change with respect to the main line, going through a complete cycle in 164 days. As you might have guessed, the astronomers have made a great many imaginative suggestions to account for this peculiar behavior. Fortunately, they have made considerable progress in understanding this strange behavior.

Apparently, SS 433 is a double star system, composed of a neutron star and another star, similar to our sun. Both stars are close to one another, and matter is being drawn from the normal star to the neutron star. This hydrogen and helium is then ejected from the neutron star in two narrow jets, equal and opposite to one another. The jet pointing in the general direction of the earth is blue-shifted, the jet pointing away from the earth is red-shifted.

The continuous variation of the red and blue Doppler-shifted lines is due to a precession or wobble of the neutron star, that corresponds to a 164-day cycle. This explanation can account for all the observed phenomena.

However, this analysis does not make SS 433 a neat little package of understanding. Far from it. Several items are left dangling.

The major mystery is the process of acceleration that the neutron star uses to drive the two jets from its surface. Such a mechanism is completely unknown at this time. There also is the unresolved problem of a gas being accelerated to about 26 percent of the speed of light from the surface of the neutron star, without losing its outer electrons. This means that the rapidly moving gas is at about 20,000 degrees (K) or less, instead of the expected temperature of about 30 billion degrees (K).

Obviously, a great deal of additional work is needed before SS 433 becomes thoroughly understood. Hopefully, further study may give us information about the energy processes involved in this phenomena; and thus add to mankind's knowledge. Eventually, it may even assist us in meeting our energy needs here on earth.

version, sources close to the case told a reporter for the St. Louis paper.

Discussing an earlier call to a Granite City, Brimberry is quoted as saying he joked about going to the Caribbean area in the future, after the brokerage fraud case has been resolved.

The ex-broker said he told of plans to purchase a yacht and "lie in the sun." He denied saying that he has stashed away a large sum of money or that he plans to retrieve it later, the Post-Dispatch said.

The total amount of funds involved in the Stix fraud has been estimated by federal officials at $36 million.

About $7 million may be reimbursed by insurers. But a grand total of another $7 million to $11 million may have been lost by 25 clients and corporate officers, investigators have indicated.

Customers' accounts are insured to a maximum of $500,000 each by the Securities Industry Protection Corporation. There is no insurance for persons who were associated with the brokerage itself.

Fred Arnstein Jr., president of Stix until it was put out of business on Nov. 9, has been questioned by Harry O. Moline Jr., court-appointed trustee.

Arnstein said Stix was a wholly-owned subsidiary of Stix Holdings Co. It had no connection with the Stix, Baer & Fuller department stores.

The holding company was formed "five or six years ago" when he wanted to diversify into real estate, Arnstein said. Despite his explanation of its purpose, the holding company actually had no other assets than the brokerage, it was asserted at a Bankruptcy Court hearing on Stix & Co. Dec. 11.

It was in the last several years that James J. Massa, a Collinsville attorney, acquired what is believed to have been majority control of Stix, but he has emphasized that he took no part in day-to-day operations.

Evidence has been found that Arnstein on some occasions described his own role and responsibilities in the brokerage in broad terms. He says this was correct at the time, but that Brimberry later gained operating control.

Arnstein adds that, although Massa's only title was that of director, the Collinsville resident as the "senior stockholder" was consulted often with Arnstein and Brimberry.

The president said at the Dec. 11 hearing that activities were undertaken between board of directors meetings at Massa's request. Brimberry's fast rise in the brokerage coincided with Massa's growing ownership role.

All who have been mentioned in the investigation deny any wrongdoing, except Brimberry. Investigators say "more than five" persons may be charged this winter.

At the hearing, Richard Rosenthal, a Stix director who headed the Stix executive committee, asked Arnstein if he could remember the date of the executive committee's last meeting. Arnstein said he could not recall it, and Rosenthal replied that it was in 1976.

The 1981 yearbook of the Securities Industry Association lists Stix & Co. officers as including Present and Chief Operating Officer Arnstein, Senior Vice-President Brimberry, Honorary Chairman Edwin R. Waldemer, Chief Financial Officer Daniel L. O'Connell, Senior Vice-President Leonard G. Bednar and Executive Vice-President Morris M. Moss.

Most Stix officers and employees are thought to have had no part in the "scam," which is described as the largest embezzlement of its type in the nation's history.

Customers' accounts in the former brokerage have been transferred by Moine to a nationally-known firm, Bache Halsey Stuart Shields, Inc. The trustee has not yet determined the exact amount of Stix assets and liabilities.

Work is proceeding at a rapid rate to review all records and recollections, enabling the government to sort out every fact and figure that it is possible to find or reconstruct.

Investigators concede that the "autopsy" being performed on the defunct brokerage may not provide much cheer for anyone caught in the wake of its demise, but they say that at least it will be thorough.

Arrest 2 in tavern

Thomas R. Puckett, 36, St. Peters, Mo., was arrested at 2:30 a.m. Saturday in the 1914 Hole tavern, 2401 Washington Ave., for aggravated assault, having allegedly flourished a knife toward several patrons.

In police custody after being treated early Saturday at St. Elizabeth Medical Center for a head cut, Puckett returned to the medical center at 9 a.m. Saturday and was admitted. Charged with striking Puckett with a pool cue, James P. Meyer, 24, Caseyville Route One, was booked for battery and then was freed on $102 cash bail.

Meyer said he acted to defend himself and others when Puckett allegedly threatened to cut several persons' throats.

The incident started when two women began fighting and fell to the floor of the tavern. A man named Robert pulled one of the blades away from the other, and a man friend of the first woman started to fight with him.

Puckett allegedly intervened on behalf of the man friend. Drawing a pocket knife and opening its blade, he backed Robert against the bar and also threatened other patrons. It was at this point that Puckett was knocked unconscious.

GC motorist is stabbed in neck

Mike Mendoza, 1915 Lynn Ave., was stabbed in the neck while the auto he was driving was stopped at a traffic light at E. 23rd Street and Nameoki Road at 10:40 p.m. Friday.

Rushed to St. Elizabeth Medical Center, he was treated for a stab wound about two inches deep and 1 1/2 inches long.

Two men who had approached the car fled from the area on foot before police arrived to assist the wounded motorist.

One of Mendoza's two passengers, who were visiting here from Chicago, described the assailant and his companion as being about six feet tall, with shoulder-length hair.

When questioned, Mendoza said the man who stabbed him was in his early 20s and had hair extending below the ears. He said he did not know the two who fled.

While waiting for a green light prior to the attack, Mendoza related, he heard a man yell at him. He said he rolled down the car window because he saw no weapon and assumed that the individual was trying to tell him something about his auto.

Man captured in burglarized tavern

Told that police had surrounded The Other Place tavern, 2442 Madison Ave., at 4:05 a.m. Friday, Robert B. Bladdick, 27, climbed out of an upstairs window that officers had noticed was open.

Bladdick, 2446 Bryan Ave., was charged with burglary. He pleaded innocent at a hearing at 1 p.m. Friday and was held in lieu of $2,005 cash bail or a $30,000 property bond.

Police on a routine patrol had seen the open window near a roof area. Later, a hand emerged from it, prompting additional officers to be summoned.

A public address system was used to tell the man that his presence had been detected. When arrested and searched, he had $190 in currency, including a stack of 40 $1 bills, and three bags of beer nuts.

Honor YMCA on 'it's week'

There are probably more voluntary organizations in the United States than anywhere else on earth. Yet, there are probably only a handful or so that have been around long enough to become household words.

One such organization is the Young Men's Christian Association, known by the simple name of the YMCA, or even more briefly as the "Y."

The YMCA in Granite City, named the "Tri-City Area YMCA," has been serving since 1924. It has been around through times of war and times of peace. It has been around through times of turbulence and radical change.

Over the years, the "Y" has changed and responded to change. Once primarily a male domain, YMCA's are increasingly family affairs, with women and girls, using the "Y" as often as men and boys.

Founded primarily for young men to read the Bible together, YMCA's now are multi-service agencies with programs that range from physical fitness to informal education, from camping to international exchanges, from learning to swim to programs to programs for senior citizens.

This week is YMCA Week. It is a good time, we think, to thank the YMCA for all it has meant to our community over the years and to wish for it at least another 56 years here in the Quad-City area." David Ferrite, executive director of the Y, here commented.

"Despite its many years, the 'Y' refuses to grow old, seeking instead new challenges with vigor."

"The year 1982 will mark a significant year in the expansion of youth programming for the Tri-City Area YMCA, as the 'Y' reaches out to all youth — boys and girls — in the Tri-Cities, to address their physical, social and emotional needs," he added.

New programs already begun are YBA (Youth Basketball Association), monthly sleepovers at the "Y" for 7 to 12 year olds (open to members and non-members), Holiday Fun Days and Vacation Fun Days at the "Y," each time school is in recess. These and many new youth programs are in the making, he said.

Programs like Junior High "Records and Records" nights, where junior high students enjoy a night of music, pool, ping-pong, swimming, racquetball and volleyball at the "Y" and programs like after-school gym and swim for 8 to 12 year olds.

"If interested in any of the above programs, please call the YMCA and let them know of your interest. The YMCA is a vital part of the community and you can be a part of this proud organization," Ferrite stated.

The YMCA movement has an unparalleled record of accomplishments, including: 1856 — health and fitness programs initiated; 1885 — 1st organized summer youth camp; 1891 — basketball invented by Dr. James Naismith, "Y" physical director; 1895 — volleyball invented by William Morgan, physical director, and 1895 — water safety initiated by "Y."

"During 'Y' Week, we are inviting everyone to the community to visit the 'Y' and see for himself how much it has changed the past few months and learn how he can enjoy a healthier, happier, slim-trim life by joining the 'Y,'" Ferrite concluded.

COLLEGE HONORS

Southwestern Oklahoma State University has announced both the President's and Dean's Honor Rolls for the 1981 fall semester. Among those honored was Philip McManus of Granite City.

Grades of "A" in all courses taken during that time result in the student being named to the President's List. A total of 148 students accomplished this. Many others are on the Dean's List after completing the semester with a grade point average of 3.0 ("B") or higher, with no grade lower than a "C."

Hearing on barge plan on Feb. 25

A hearing will be held here at 6 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 25, on the proposal to build a barge floating facility immediately upstream from the Illinois American Water Company's local water system intake.

Location of the hearing by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency will be the Granite City Township Building, 21st Street and Delmar Avenue.

National Marine Service is seeking permission to establish a permanent barge site on the Mississippi River shore of Chouteau Island. It is being forced to relocate some of its facilities due to construction of new dam and lock structures two miles downstream from the present Alton locks and dam.

National Marine has modified its original proposal to change IEPA opposition to approval. The water company and others are still unhappy with the plan because they feel a future barge sinking, spill or leak could threaten the purity of the water supply in Madison and St. Clair counties.

Statements for and against the proposal will be heard at the hearing, which was scheduled in response to a large number of letters, pro and con, received by the state from Quad-Cities.

CAR HIT, ARREST 2

Dale Wayne Endicott, 18, of 1419 Third St., Madison, was arrested there at 1:15 p.m. Friday for allegedly kicking and striking the passing auto of Algie Crawford, 516 Jefferson St., Madison. Several persons are said to have wielded their feet and a shovel to damage the car. A boy, 14, was charged with property damage and Endicott was booked for property damage and resisting arrest.

into the city," Nolan said, citing aging neighborhoods that need to be renovated.

Nolan said he has a "lot of pride" in Granite City and wants to see the town make a good initial impression. An upgrading of entrance areas would be a benefit to both the downtown merchants and businesses located outside the downtown area.

One possible aid to traffic flowing into the city would be the elimination of some stop signs between Route 3 and the 19th Street overpass, Nolan said. The Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan & Regional Planning Commission is working with the city in the development of a truck route for the downtown area. Under consideration is a circular corridor that would prevent one street from absorbing all truck traffic, he explained.

Nolan told merchants that they may have to consider the use of loading zones for their shops and perhaps restrict themselves to certain loading times during the working day as another traffic improvement.

Unightly billboards and overhanging electrical wires are current problems in downtown aesthetics, he said. He cited Civic Park, at Niedringhaus Avenue and Cleveland Boulevard as a poor example of aesthetic improvement.

Nolan revealed expanded plans for the city's "People's Park" on the vacant lot at 19th and Delmar, showing downtown merchants a sketch of the area, complete with brick walkways and a central circular display area for six Bicentennial mosaics. "This will create a new type of atmosphere," he said.

The area could include ramps for the handicapped, a cafe and restrooms. He said a central bus shelter could provide both refreshments for bus riders and customers for the restaurant.

The Granite City Rehabilitation Board now is working with appraisers to purchase the park area, using Community Development Funds. Such funds also are being planned for the repaving of Delmar and Edison avenues and State Street. Low interest loans also may become available for the redevelopment project through Community Development Funds.

As part of the spirit of mutual cooperation Nolan would like to see formed between the city and other taxing districts, the Granite City Park District may be able to initially assist in the maintenance of tree and flowers that he feels are essential to the development project.

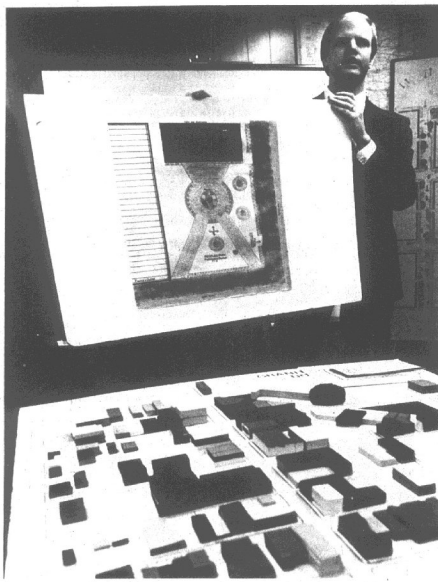

Nolan told the merchants the Granite City Plan Commission has shown its support for the redevelopment of the downtown area and one developer already has expressed interest in building a senior citizens' housing area near 18th Street. He said another developer has informed the city that he is considering improving an entire downtown block.

A senior citizens' complex would not only provide seniors with homes close to shopping areas, but would provide an instant buying public for downtown stores. "It's a plus for people and merchants," Nolan said. A 65-unit housing complex for seniors, one block away from downtown Belleville, has been so successful that a second one is being considered, he noted.

Questioning the stability of the downtown area without new developments, Nolan urged the promotion committee not to hesitate in forming a subcommittee within the next few weeks as the final link in a joint city-merchant effort to implement a plan of action.

Nolan asked the merchants to choose amongst themselves two prominent individuals whom the community would follow.

Nolan said he once thought the downtown area was stable, until recent economic conditions and business closings changed his mind. He cited the closing of Carp's Department Store and the soon-to-be-closed Libson Shop, both located on 19th Street, as an example. Mayor Paul Schuler has written a letter to the operators of Libson Shops, asking them to reconsider their decision to close the store here.

PEOPLE'S PARK SKETCH. David Nolan, administrative assistant to Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler, holds a preliminary drawing of People's Park, to be located at 19th Street and Delmar Avenue. The sketch shows brick walkways leading to a circular display area for six mosaics commemorating the ethnic heritage of Granite City. A restaurant, bus stop and public restrooms also are shown. In the foreground is a scale model of existing buildings in the area. The model will serve as a testing ground for development ideas.

The merchants' subcommittee could work with the city's Rehabilitation Board subcommittee, formed by Alderman Paul Fisk of the Third Ward and Joseph Lucido, board member and manager of the Granite City Steel Employees' Federal Credit Union.

Other members of the core group could be Nolan, Parente and Alan Richardson, executive vice-president of the Chamber. Nolan said he has talked extensively with Richardson about the redevelopment plans and Richardson's background in the Regional Commerce & Growth Association would be valuable.

Richardson said the chamber should be able to set up the subcommittee relatively quickly.

In addition to the core group, Nolan said he would "push hard" for the formation of a not-for-profit redevelopment group within the next three to six months as "the type of group that is needed outside the Chamber of Commerce and the city (government) itself."

Nolan said the redevelopment group could act as a lobbyist for downtown ordinances, such as stricter building codes and a business sign ordinance. He will "look for a minimum housing requirement" as a necessity for the upgrading of the area.

"A group of people came in and worked on the aldermen" to prevent a previous housing code from being approved, Nolan said. "It would not have been abusive," he feels.

He said a strict sign ordinance also is needed to combat what he considers an "abusive" situation. He said large overhanging signs "create an ugliness" a new ordinance may be able to correct.

He sighted a handwritten sign on a 19th Street storefront as an example of an unattractive advertising display.

Parente said merchants in Belleville were given a three-year deadline to comply with that city's new sign ordinance.

Those seeking an improvement in the appearance of downtown Granite City will be much more successful working in a lobby group to effect those changes, Nolan contended.

He plans to meet with the Chamber board of directors next month to review progress in downtown planning.

Hileman arrested during home search

Charles Hileman, 2330 Lynch Ave., former assistant fire chief of Granite City, was arrested Friday night on warrants alleging violation of his parole and felony theft and he was in the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville this morning in lieu of $100,000 bond.

Officials said today as they discussed the serving of a search warrant at Hileman's home Friday night that East Alton police obtained the search warrant and were assisted by officers from the Illinois Division of Criminal Investigation, Assistant Madison County State's Attorney Susan and Keith Jensen, Madison County sheriff's deputies and Granite City Patrolman J.W. Apperson and Detective Tony Eck in removing a window to gain entry to the Hileman home Friday night.

They alleged finding numerous items on the second floor of the home, including silver, silverware, jewelry, coins, stereos, television sets and other items and in the garage they found at least three motorcycles and other items for which Hileman was said to be unable to immediately show titles. Many of the items were seized, pending determination of ownership.

Department of Criminal Investigation officers refused to discuss the case this morning, saying that the news would have to be released by the East Alton Police. A spokesman for that department said that only the chief is authorized to release information and he was not in the office. They declined to release his unlisted telephone number to reporters or to attempt to contact the chief.

Neither the assistant state's attorneys involved in the arrest nor State's Attorney Don Weber were available for additional details.

Granite City officers alleged that Hileman returned home during the search, but fled in his vehicle when he saw the officers. He was followed and taken into custody, officers said.

ARREST TWO IN CAR

James Goleanor

James Goleanor Sr., 80, of 2658 E. 24th St. was fatally stricken in the driveway of his home and was pronounced dead at the scene at 7:35 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 16, 1982, by Deputy Coroner Randall Irwin.

Mr. Goleanor left the house at about 6 p.m. to place an electric light bulb on the motor of his automobile to aid in starting it the following day despite below-zero temperatures.

When he did not return, his wife, Geneva, contacted their son, James Jr., 2656 Edwards St., who found him at 7 p.m. Saturday lying face down between the auto and residence. There were nose and face cuts from the fall.

Emergency medical technicians revived him. Death was attributed to a heart ailment, for which he was under medical care.

Born in Dixon, Mo., Mr. Goleanor resided in Granite City from 1922 to 1930, and then returned and had lived here continuously since 1942.

He worked as a planer operator at the former General Steel plant. He later was employed in maintenance work at the Nestle Co., Inc., plant and retired there 15 years ago.

His memberships included the Dewey Avenue Methodist Church and Local 1022 of the United Steelworkers of America.

for more than a decade. On transportation, Thompson said, he has been frustrated "at seeing relatively modest proposals bipartisanly defeated or sidetracked."

He said some additional state assistance should be considered for mass transit projects provided by the Regional Transportation Authority in the Cook County area, but only after several principles of reform have been put in practice.

Thompson asked the assembly to approve bills to help the state adjust to meet downward economic swings.

One proposal involves splitting the double school aid payment now made by the state in June into July in this fiscal year and the coming fiscal year.

A second proposal would equalize the state tax on alcohol by taxing the amount of alcohol purchased rather than the quantity of the liquid, and raise the equalized taxes about 15 percent, "or a penny a drink."

Job creation is one of six areas where he said he will be urging development as part of efforts to expand the state's economic growth.

Defensive gamble pays off

Warriors upset Collinsville

By JIM SCHLUETER

GRANITE CITY — After losing its first game of the season Friday night after 14 wins, the Collinsville basketball team hoped to rebound Saturday night. And Granite City South, sporting a 2-10 record, seemed the perfect team to bolster the Kahoks' sagging spirits.

However, the Warriors didn't follow the Kahoks' game plan, and shocked Collinsville 59-57. Not only was it the Kahoks' second loss in two nights, it was the first time the Warriors had beaten Collinsville since 1972, back when there was only one Granite City High School. That was the Granite City team that was led by Terry Ripka, ranked in the top ten in the state all season and advanced to the Sweet Sixteen.

That was a long time ago.

In two short days, a high-flying undefeated basketball team was yanked down to earth. Collinsville coach Gene Catalpa said that losing to Alton Friday night affected his team's play.

"I don't know if we thought they (South) were no good or if we thought we could win them all and got our bubble burst," Catalpa said. "But it was very negative out there."

Some of the same things that hurt the Kahoks Friday night again plagued them against the Warriors such as foul trouble.

The Kahoks big man, 6-9 Jim McConkey, fouled out with 6:11 left in the game, just before Collinsville staged a late but futile rally.

And once again, the Kahoks were outscored at the free throw line, although the Warriors only hit 19 of 29 free throw attempts, they outscored the Kahoks 19-9 from the line. Collinsville connected on only 50 percent of its free throws.

The Kahoks never had the lead in the game as the Warriors used some hot shooting to take a 20-13 first quarter lead. Collinsville stormed back by scoring six straight points to open the second quarter, but the Kahoks spent most of the period one point away from tying the game.

And the Warriors ended the half with two free throws by John Linhart and a layup by Larry Holder to take a 32-27 halftime lead.

The third quarter was the most costly to the Kahoks. South had no player over 6-3, and the Kahoks had numerous chances to score inside. But they didn't. Instead of rallying from behind, the Kahoks hit three of 15 shots from the field and fell farther back, 45-35, after three periods.

"We took a ton of shots in the third and early in the fourth quarter," Catalpa said. "We got the shots but we just didn't make them."

As Catalpa noted, it was more of the same in the fourth quarter. And after McConkey fouled out, the Warriors stretched their lead to 55-40 with 4:03 remaining.

That's when Collinsville made a mad dash for the game. Junior varsity standout Chris Origliosso hit from eight feet out with 3:48 left, and the Kahoks scored nine more unanswered points to make it 55-51 with 1:45 left to play.

But the Kahoks could not get closer than four points and with 23 seconds remaining John Linhart sealed the game with two free throws which made the score 59-53.

According to Warrior coach Don

Deterding, South's upset was made possible because of a gamble. He put two men on McConkey and had another man, Ken McManus, playing man-to-man on sophomore Mike Hunter.

With Kahoks guards Marc Parker and Greg Daily combining for a four-of-21 shooting night, Deterding looked like a defensive wizard. But again Deterding stressed that it was just a gamble that cashed in. "Sometimes it works, and sometimes it doesn't. But this time it did," Deterding said. "We got the lead early and then hung on for dear life."

Deterding also said his team needs some more work on free throws but a victory over Collinsville kept him smiling.

"We made enough free throws to keep our heads above water, and thank God we had a big lead going in."

But the Kahoks' comeback try didn't really please Catalpa. He thought his team should have played that way the whole game. "You can't wait until you're 15 down with six minutes to go to start playing," he said. "We played with a little more intensity in the fourth quarter and the shots started dropping."

But it was a little too late.

Steelers complete weekend sweep

By ROGER KRAMER

BETHALTO — After Granite City North's impressive 70-45 victory over Granite City South Friday, Steeler coach Bill Ohlendorf hoped his team wouldn't have a let down against lowly Civic Memorial (Bethalto) Saturday.

On the other hand, Ohlendorf expected a let-down, and the Steelers had a let-down. The Steelers had just enough to defeat the Eagles 59-51.

"I was super concerned about being super flat after we showed so much intensity against South," Ohlendorf said. "Tonight was the complete opposite of what we did Friday night."

"High school kids tend to be realistic about those kind of things," Ohlendorf said in reference to the Eagles' 1-12 record. "Thank God we were able to get out of there with a win."

The Steelers needed only the first 12 minutes of the game to put things in hand. After that, Ohlendorf did anything he could to make the remaining 20 minutes go by as quickly as possible.

With 4:11 left in the second quarter, Carl Luehmann's lay-up gave North a 30-16 lead. From there, things grew steadily worse. North's offense was frozen for almost three minutes and North led by only nine points at halftime. For the rest of the game, the two teams traded baskets and free throws.

The defense was responsible for that lead. The Eagles committed 12 turnovers in those first 12 minutes. Civic Memorial coach Dennis Wilschetz, realizing his team couldn't stand the full court pressure North was applying, told the Eagles to relax. The advice worked as Civic Memorial passed and looked for the open shot.

"What really hurt us was those early turnovers," Wilschetz said. "After a few stolen passes, the players forgot about passing because they're scared to lose the ball. Our problem is handling pressure. We've seen enough pressing that we should know what to do, but sometimes we forget to apply it."

Instead of moving with the ball, North's defense reverted to fouling. In the first half, North committed 12 fouls compared to three for the Eagles. North fouled out CM 19-10 for the game.

The fouls came from a lack of concentration on defense. We were just standing there, not moving, and waving at people," Ohlendorf said.

Although Civic Memorial came as close as six points in the fourth quarter, North was in no real danger of losing the game.

"I don't think the game was ever in jeopardy," Ohlendorf said. "We were terrible, and we just wanted to get out of there with a win. It was a typical game-after, I wasn't pleased with any aspect of the game."

The Steelers made just 26 of 72 field goal attempts. It wasn't that North was having difficulty getting its shots off, it was simply that the ball didn't go through the hoop.

Luehmann led all scorers with 23 points. Harold Rody and Mike Sullivan both scored 10 points each for the Steelers.

Sophomore David Weller, starting in his first varsity game, led the Eagles with 19 points. Richard Richey scored 16 points for CM.

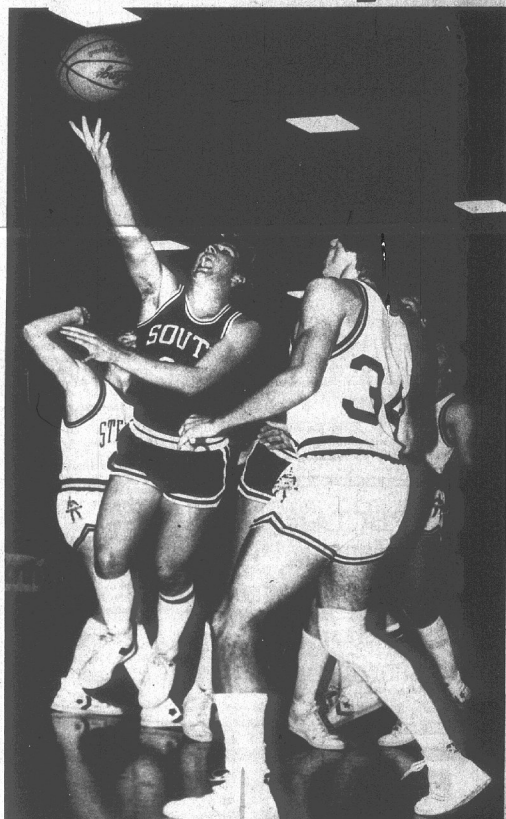

"In the junior varsity games, he shot 70 percent," Wilschetz said about Weller.

He had a bad night because he was nervous and is recovering from a knee injury. He's a pure shooter," Ohlendorf said. "I'm sure their coach thought they done well tonight. We were in that situation last year, so I know what it's like. They did

Cahokia edges Althoff 66-64

BELLEVEILLE — The Cahokia Comanches staged a rally by Belleville Althoff's Crusaders here Saturday night to win a critical Gateway East Conference game 66-64.

The victory raised Cahokia's Gateway East record to 6-0 and strengthened its hold on first place in the conference. The Comanches' overall record is 11-2. The loss dropped Althoff's GEC mark to 2-2 and 5-7 overall.

The game started like it would be a runaway victory for Cahokia. The Comanches dominated play in the first quarter and held a seemingly comfortable 24-13 lead at the end of the period.

The Crusaders staged a brief rally early in the second quarter, but the Comanches again took control and held a 34-22 halftime lead.

But the third quarter was almost all Althoff. The Crusaders managed to creep back to within 46-41 entering the fourth quarter.

North wrestlers win double dual

Remain unbeaten

CENTRALIA — Granite City North's wrestling team keeps on rolling up the dual meet victories. The Steelers increased their dual meet record to 16-0 by defeating Carbondale 43-12 and Centralia 54-12 in a double-dual meet here Saturday.

The margin of North's victories at the meet left North coach Walt Whitaker astounded. "I'm surprised we beat Carbondale by that much because they have several kids who are supposed to be pretty tough, but we had a couple of kids who had particularly good matches. "Centralia was supposed to be down this year, but because of injuries, they've had to forfeit some matches in the lower classes," Whitaker said.

Colin Davis, North's 98 pound wrestler picked up the quick pin of the match with Carbondale in 46 seconds. Steve Smith, 119, and Dave Owens, HWI, also picked up pins for North. Smith pinned his opponent in 5:09 and Owens pinned his in 5:50. Greg Nemeth, 105, Dale Bowles, 112, Rod Unger, 132, Rick Brown, 138, and John Morris, 185, all won on decisions. Scott Corey, 155, won on forfeit.

Mark Whitaker, 126, was pinned in 2:36, and Monte Kessler, 145, and Bob Patton, 167, both lost by decision against Carbondale.

Against Centralia, Davis, Bowles and Smith won on forfeits. Morris picked up the quick pin for North in 1:25. Nemeth pinned his opponent in 2:08. Unger pinned his foe in 2:54, and Corey won by pin in 3:42.

Brown and Patton both won on decisions, and Kessler won by default. Whitaker and Owens were both pinned.

The Steelers are idle until Friday and Saturday when they participate in the Wentzville, Mo., Tournament. North, Wentzville, Hazelwood West and Normandy are the favorites in the tournament. Other teams in the tournament are Parkway North, Jefferson City, and Beaumont and Hancock of St. Louis.

Corey is undefeated for the season. Both Smith and Davis have been defeated just once, and Nemeth has been defeated twice.

"Almost everyone else has good records for us. We have good balance," Whitaker said.

VENICE — The Venice Red Devils ran their won-loss record to 8-4 on the season here Thursday with an easy 72-58 victory over Alton Marquette in non-conference action.

"We looked pretty good in the second half," said Venice head coach Ken Perkins. "The second half we coasted a little."

"We needed a victory like this one. It looks like we might be turning the corner."

Venice was led in scoring by Keith Marchbanks who pumped in 18 points on the night. Harold "Smokey" Milton added 16 for the Red Devils.

Alton Marquette's Explorers were paced in scoring by Grove's 17 points. Hartmann added 16 points.

Venice's Red Devils jumped out to a 21-10 lead at the end of the first quarter and never looked back. They increased that lead to 34-21 at the halftime break by outscoring the Explorers 13-11 in the second quarter.

In the second half, the Explorers attempted to stage a rally of sorts. But each time they would get close enough to make the Red Devils worry, Venice would catch fire just enough to keep Marquette at bay.

The Red Devils were outscored by the Explorers 17-16 in the third quarter. But in the fourth quarter, Venice outscored Marquette 22-20.

Venice will visit Columbia Tuesday for a pair of non-conference games.

The junior varsity contest is scheduled to begin at 6:30 p.m.,

Red-hot North bombs South, 70-45

By ROGER KRAMER
for the Press-Record
GRANITE CITY — Don Deterding, coach of the Granite City South Warriors said the Warriors were whipped by Granite City North 70-45 Friday at North. Whipped was the best term Deterding could have used. "We were whipped; that's all there is to it. We were out hustled, out offensed, out defended. You could go on and on. When you get whipped, you get whipped," Deterding said.

The Steelers, shooting around 40 percent most of the year, shot 56 percent, 31 of 55, from the field. "Not by all means, but by far was this our best shooting game of the year," North coach Bill Ohlendorf said.

Harold Rody, a forward and North's leading scorer, made 14 of 17 field goal attempts and scored 29 points. "I've never shot so well before," Rody said. "This is the best game I've ever had."

Why did North have such an exceptional offensive game? Rody said, "I was really up for the game, and the team was up for the game because it was South."

We wanted to beat them," North could've been very little wrong from the second quarter on. The Steelers led 16-14 after the first quarter, and with 6:07 left, Jim Petty scored to tie the game at 18-18.

For the next three and a half minutes, South didn't score. Meanwhile, North scored 12 points, including four baskets on four shots by Rody, and pulled to a 30-18 lead North led at halftime 37-24.

Rody, who averaged 13.4 points a game for North, scored 19 points in the first half, 13 of those in the second quarter. He made nine of 10 field goal attempts in the first half.

"He's a good shooter," Ohlendorf said. "He's come through well in our last couple of games. He's someone who plays hard, and he's been getting the ball in the hole."

The defense also did its job. Only one Warrior, John Linhart, scored in double figures for South. He scored 14 points.

"We just didn't shoot the ball well enough," Deterding said. "The problem was that we couldn't get the ball in side because they keyed their defense on our inside men. They wanted us to take the outside shots, and we didn't make them."

"The only time we were penetrating was one the fast breaks, other than that, we kept the ball 12-15 feet away from the basket. When you have five guys that close together and no giant on your team, it's hard to get the ball inside," Deterding said.

Deterding was also concerned about the 17 turnovers South committed in the first half. "Most of them were fooling mental lapses and lackadaisical errors. Most of the time our defense wasn't aggressive either."

North keyed its 1-3-1 zone in the middle to try to nullify Ken McManus and Joe Schefke. The zone worked well, and the Steelers were able to add to their lead as the shooting slacked off slightly.

"We're playing good defense," Ohlendorf said. "At the start of the year, I told our players the areas we needed the most work in are defense and rebounding. I think we've done a good job at it."

"Hopefully, this and the good shooting is starting like a roller coaster and we can keep it going and get those negative things out of there. Hopefully we can have some kind of success later this season," Ohlendorf said.

Kendall Whittington scored 12 points for North, the only other player in double figures for either team.

As a team, South made 20 of 55 field goal attempts.

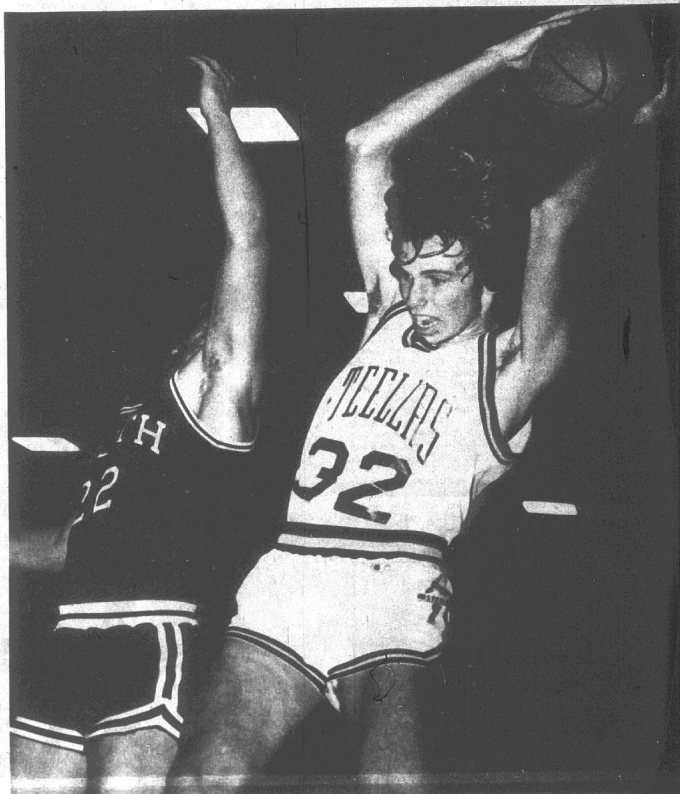

"I'm very proud of our boys. They rose to the occasion and did the job. It was an exceptional team effort by everyone, including those who came off the bench," Ohlendorf said.

"A loss is a loss, and you can't let it get to you. We were whipped," Deterding said.

Madison downs Eagles for Dupco championship

By TERESA GULL
of the Press-Record
DUPCO — Madison clinched the championship of the Dupco Invitational Basketball Tournament for the sixth year in a row here Friday night with a 76-59 win over Columbia.

Although the victory came rather easily for Madison, Larry Graham, Madison's head coach, was not pleased with the overall performance of the team.

"We're having a hard time gelling," Graham said. "We're trying to find the right combination."

With 15 players he considers equal as far as playing skills, it's a difficult process for Graham to sort out which players work together the best. He's been rotating nine or ten different players into the games but has yet to stumble across the right combination. The poor passing skills is just one indication of a lack of team cohesiveness.

Despite not playing well as a team Friday night, Graham was pleased with the individual performances of several players.

The play of Mark Zarr, 67 senior center, and Billy Papa, 59 senior guard, were encouraging signs for Graham. Both Zarr and Papa were named to the tournament's first team. Carvell Claggett, 60 senior guard, was chosen for the second team.

"Zarr started rebounding better. He's starting to get around," Graham said. "I don't think he was working as hard as he could at the beginning of the season. We need him."

Zarr led Madison with 18 points and 21 rebounds. Papa, the hustling point guard, added 10 points.

"Papa's got a lot of skills. He's a very intelligent player," Graham said.

In the first quarter, however, things weren't looking so bright for Madison. Columbia jumped off to a 8-2 lead midway through the first quarter. Madison was plagued by turnovers and cold shooting against Columbia's 2-3 zone. Madison's outside shots weren't falling and the guards were unable to pass the ball inside.

Graham's explanation about the first quarter was simple. "We had a hard time scoring. We just missed a few shots and the guys dropped their heads," Graham said.

Madison battled back to a 10-10 tie at the end of the first quarter. A steal by Papa resulted in a lay-up by Shannon Manson with 3:10 left in the first half, giving Madison a 22-20 lead — a lead which they never relinquished.

Graham felt the key to the game was tempo. When Madison forced Columbia to play a fast paced game, Madison started dominating. "That's why we press like we do," Graham said.

Madison steadily increased their lead in the second half on a combination of inside and outside shooting. Columbia's shooting fell into a cold streak, with the Eagles scoring the majority of their points from the free throw line.

Columbia shot only 27 percent from the field, making 15 out of 60 shots. They shot 77 percent from the free throw line, however, making 27 out of 35 attempts.

Columbia was led in scoring by Brian Nottrott with 21 points. Nottrott was named the tournament's most valuable player. The only other Columbia player scoring in double figures was Bill Cox with 13 points.

Another encouraging sign for Graham was the play of the reserves. "I thought we got more out of our bench tonight," Graham said. "I thought (Dan) Stern played pretty well."

Stern scored only four points but his aggressive play forced several Columbia turnovers. Kevin Brown and John Hughes also came off the bench to score 10 and eight points for Madison.

Tax credits—a good way to save some of your tax dollars

(Internal Revenue Service) Tax credits saved 73 million taxpayers $17 billion in federal income taxes last year.

Most of those taxpayers were average wage earners who have learned that itemizing deductions is not the only way to save money on their taxes.

There are a variety of tax credits. Most must be taken on the long form, the Form 1040, and will allow you to reduce your taxes because of certain expenses you've incurred during the year.

But because the credits vary, the best thing to do is to check your tax return and then gain more information about any credits that might apply to you.

Here are three common credits. (After the explanation of the credit is information on the form you will need to use and a publication you can order for more information.)

Earned Income Credit can put up to $500 in your pocket. This credit is for certain low-income individuals who earn less than $10,000 and who have a child living with them.

Grandparents, aunts and uncles as well as parents may qualify. Unlike most credits, you can receive a refund even if you don't owe tax or would otherwise have to file a return.

For example, John and Mary Smith earned $5,700 in 1981. They have a two-year-old son.

Normally, they would not file a return. But they qualify for earned income credit and will receive a $500 refund, even though neither had taxes withheld during the year.

John chose to receive his earned income credit as a refund when he filed his Form 1040A.

If you qualify for the credit, you may choose to receive it as a part of your pay each payday.

Beginning Oct. 1, 1981, if you are eligible for earned income credit and are receiving aid to dependent children payments, the state will determine how much advanced earned income credit payments you can receive.

The state will then include those payments as part of your income to determine your eligibility for aid, whether or not you actually receive these payments in your paycheck.

Therefore, you may want to begin receiving earned income credit payments with your weekly wages.

Ask your employer for a Form W-5, "Earned Income

Credit Advanced Payment Certificate." (Can be claimed on Form 1040 or 1040A — no special additional form; see Pub. 596, Earned Income Credit.)

Child and Disabled Dependent Care Credits can save you as much as $900. You might be entitled to a credit of 20 percent of the expenses to care for your child, disabled dependent or disabled spouse that you paid in 1981.

Ted and Carol Barker are a typical two-career family. Ted made $15,000 in 1981 selling insurance. Carol earned $18,000 as a nurse.

Their son, Timothy, attends a local day care center. The cost of the day care center for 1981 was $2,000.

Ted and Carol are eligible for a $400 child care credit — 20 percent of the $2,000.

Last year, Ted's disabled mother also lived with them. In addition to the $2,000 day care expense, they also incurred $1,800 in home nursing care for the dependent mother.

In 1980, Ted and Carol claimed a $760 credit. The new tax law will increase the maximum amount of expenses you can claim and will change other provisions of this credit in 1982.

That may mean an even bigger saving for you on the return you will file on or before April 15, 1983. (Can be claimed only on Form 1040 with Form 2441. Credit for Child and Dependent Care Expenses; see Pub. 503, Child and Disabled Dependent Care.)

Residential Energy Credit can lower your tax bill by as much as $300.

If you have had storm doors and windows installed in your home during 1981, you are probably entitled to a credit of 15 percent of the amount you spent, up to a total of $2,000 spent for this home.

Other items that qualify include: insulation, thermal windows and doors, and caulking or weatherstripping.

You can save money on your fuel bills and reduce your taxes at the same time.

If you are planning to install a renewable energy source system, such as solar heating, look into the additional credit available. (Can be claimed only on Form 1040 with Form 5695, Energy Credits, see Publication 905, Energy Credits for Individuals.)

Why do you save so much money by using tax credits? The trick is no secret. A tax credit directly reduces your tax bill, while a deduction only reduces taxable income.

What does this mean? If you are in the "25 percent tax bracket" and you have enough deductions to itemize, you reduce your tax bill by only $25 for every $100 of itemized deductions.

If you have the same $100 coming as a credit, you reduce your tax bill by the full $100.

The Form 1040 instruction book, Publication 17, Your Federal Income Tax, and other free IRS publications explain what credits are available and who qualifies.

Remember, you don't have to itemize your deductions to take advantage of the tax credits. But for most credits, you must use the Form 1040. Three of the most popular credits have been mentioned here.

You might qualify for others, such as contributions to candidates for public office, credit for the elderly, investment credit, or jobs credit.

Publication 900, Index to Tax Publications, will direct you to the publications which furnish necessary information on these and other credits.

To find out more, check the recommended publications previously mentioned in this article and use the order form in your tax package to receive the publications or forms.

Tax credits can mean bigger refunds or smaller tax bills for you this year. So, before you complete your return, check for tax credits: millions of taxpayers do.

New Mexico missionaries plan Nameoki Church talk

Missionaries from the Navajo Methodist School, Farmington, N.M., Merelyn and John Voss, are speaking at area churches and will appear Sunday, Jan. 24, at Nameoki United Methodist Church here.

Last week, they were the speakers at Mayville United Methodist Church following an all-church pot-luck supper. They also spoke to an adult Sunday School class at the Centenary United Methodist Church in St. Louis and shared their experiences with the congregation at Lebanon United Methodist Church.

The Navajo Methodist School was started 90 years ago to teach reading and writing to the native Americans in the Farmington, N.M., area and surrounding Navajo reservation.

The school has changed through the years to meet the needs of the Navajo population. It now is a high school only and is directed towards preparing the young students for entering colleges, enabling more of the Navajo youth to be able to compete with other youth for college education.

Merelyn Voss is assistant to the superintendent of the school. Hector Voss and John Voss directs all of the agricultural work on the schools extensive property. The Vosses previously were dairy farmers in Wisconsin.

They say that another interest of the school is to help maintain the cultural heritage of the Navajo nation; as well as educating the young people to modern academic curriculum. Tomorrow, the Vosses will speak at Christ United Methodist Church in Fairview Heights at 10:30 a.m. They also are scheduled Jan. 20 in New Baden, Jan. 21 in East Alton, Jan. 22 at Springfield, Ill., and at First United Methodist Church of Collinsville, they will speak after an all-church soup supper starting at 6:30.

Saturday, they are scheduled for the Caseyville United Methodist Church, and Sunday, Jan. 24, they will speak at the morning service of Nameoki United Methodist Church here to celebrate United Methodist Sunday.

Next Monday, with the weather cooperating, they will start back to Farmington.

Anti-smoking poster contest for students

Area students in grades 3 through 12 are invited to participate in the 10th Annual Statewide Smoking Poster Contest, sponsored by the American Lung Association of Illinois.

Lewis-Clark Lung Association will coordinate the contest for students in Madison, Calhoun and Jersey counties, according to Gene Crivello, executive director.

As a theme for the posters, students may display aspects of smoking which emphasize one of five points: advantages of nonsmoking; hazards of smoking; effects of smoke on nonsmokers; rights of nonsmokers; and peer group pressure in regards to smoking.

Posters will be judged in three grade level categories, 3-5, 6-8 and 9-12, and will be based on originality, ability to attract and communicate, grammatical correctness (errors will result in disqualification), ability to be utilized effectively in school classrooms and coordination of the poster's picture-message content. Local awards will be given for first place and two honorable mentions in each grade category. Posters winning first place will be entered in the statewide judging, scheduled April 9 in Springfield.

State awards will include first place and at least two honorable mentions in each category. Each school represented by a state winner will receive recognition, Crivello said. Entries will become the property of the association, he added.

Designs may be horizontal or vertical on 11 x 14-inch paper, representing the work of one student.

A student may enter only one poster, which must have his or her name, grade and school address printed and affixed to the back of the poster.

Entries must be submitted before March 19 to Lewis-Clark Lung Association, P. O. Box 158, 523 Old St. Louis Road, Wood River, Ill. 62095.

When 'babies' have babies

By CATHERINE MAUCK
Home Economics Adviser

Many American girls are becoming mothers before they become adults. The number of mothers aged 16 and under in the U.S. has increased 90 percent since 1960.

Experts disagree on the precise cause of this social phenomena. Some blame a drop in the age of puberty. Others cite weakening moral values, the alienation of the young, sex portrayed on television, inadequate information about sexuality and a transient lifestyle.

Whatever the cause, the statistics suggest reason for concern.

In the U.S., 375,000 girls under 14 are sexually active. More than one million American teenagers become pregnant each year or about one in 10 girls under 20. As a result, teenagers accounted for just under one-third of all 1978 births, over 50 percent of all out-of-wedlock births and one-third of all abortions in the U.S.

Teenagers are generally ill-equipped for motherhood. Between one-half and three-quarters of the girls who become pregnant before they complete high school never graduate. And the younger the mother, the more likely it is her family will live in poverty.

Many teenage mothers, hard pressed to cope with one child, may have several children.

Only 30 percent of sexually active teenagers consistently use contraception. And within a year of giving birth, one in four teenagers is pregnant again.

The future of babies born to teenage mothers is equally bleak. The probability of birth defects increases as maternal age drops.

Children of adolescent mothers are also more likely to have impaired intellectual function. Moreover, teenage mothers are frequently unable to meet the physical, emotional, educational and economic needs of their children.

Teenage pregnancies are, consequently, society's concern. All of us pay in one way or another for unhealthy, or poorly nurtured children. I believe we all must share the responsibility of discouraging unplanned and ill-timed pregnancy. We need to motivate young people to plan for their parenthood responsibly, in my opinion.

Q. Now that we're in 1982 and the new tax law is in effect, I would like to open a Keogh Plan account. I have $15,000 in an account earning over 10 percent interest. Would it be better to invest the entire $15,000 now or wait until the end of the year and let the $15,000 earn as much interest as possible?

A. If you invest $15,000 (the maximum amount allowable under the new law) in a Keogh Plan now, as an example, you could realize nearly $1,500 of tax-sheltered earnings for the taxable year. Continuing with the example, if you waited until the end of 1982 and kept the money in a taxable investment yielding 10 percent, you would owe $750 in additional taxes (approximately) assuming you are in the 50 percent bracket. Under the example, you'd save about $750 if you invest in a Keogh plan as soon as possible. Because you are sheltering all the earnings in a Keogh Plan investment from taxes, the earlier you put the money into the plan, the more you'll ultimately save.

State lottery tops $1 billion

Governor James R. Thompson announced Thursday that the Illinois State Lottery has exceeded the $1 billion mark in total revenues. It began in July 1974.

"In the last fiscal year alone," the governor said, "the lottery contributed more than $88 million to the general revenue fund, and it expects that in this fiscal year its contribution will be more than $100 million."

"The lottery's profits are important to help support higher education, and education and other services for all Illinois citizens," he said.

The governor said that of the lottery's total revenue, it has paid more than $450 million in prizes to lottery players and contributed more than $422 million to help support programs benefiting Illinois residents.

He noted that of the $422.3 million in lottery "profits" transferred to the general revenue fund, $174.4 million has gone to help support elementary, secondary and higher education, and another $176.9 million has gone to support additional human services programs.

He said $20.6 million has gone for local revenue sharing and debt service; $16.9 million for tax relief for the elderly and other tax refund; and $3.4 million for other state services.

The funding figures are based on percentages of support for those programs that come from general revenue funds.

The governor noted that, about two years ago, lottery revenues declined to the point where he considered ending the lottery unless its sales and general revenue fund contribution increased.

"Since 1980, the performance of the lottery has increased dramatically," he said, "and the lottery has become big business and an extremely important contributor to the financial health of the state."

Lottery Superintendent Michael J. Jones said lottery sales this fiscal year (July 1, 1981 to June 30, 1982) should hit $800 million, an increase of 39 percent over the $215 million in revenues posted in fiscal 1981.

Jones noted that the 1981 sales of $215 million were an increase of 119 percent over the previous fiscal year's sales of $98.3 million.

The daily game, which began in February 1980, has made the greatest impact on the lottery's improved sales figures, and the daily game sales have continued to improve, both as additional daily game agents are added and as per-agent sales increase.

Jones also pointed out that recent sales of instant lottery games have been the best in more than three years and that weekly instant game sales have been around $1.5 million for several months.

HOW TO SAVE MONEY ON U.S.D.A. CHOICE GRAIN FED BEEF:

BOXED BEEF YOUR BEST BUY

HERE IS THE REASON WHY:

A new trend is sweeping the country in buying beef for home freezers. Swinging carcass beef is being replaced by vacuum packed beef portions in a box simply called Boxed Beef. With Boxed Beef you buy only the portions of the beef you want to serve your family.

All of the excess bone and waste plus seldom used cuts such as soup bones and boiling meat are trimmed away by skilled meat cutters in ultra-modern beef processing plants. After the beef portions are vacuum sealed with a patented process, the portion is boxed and shipped on refrigerated trucks direct to our meat locker.

Next time you're thinking of a large beef purchase for your home freezer or a special occasion, such as large cook-outs and parties, ask us about the quality, value and just plain good sense in our Boxed Beef program.

THE OLD WAY TO BUY BEEF.

We've all seen or heard of the hanging beef carcass that used to be transported by truck and transferred to meat coolers for cutting. Only skilled butchers could cut these carcasses properly, but even then there was 28 to 32 percent waste in unusable bone and fat. There are still some supermarkets that utilize hanging carcass beef, but the trend to Boxed Beef and its economies is sweeping the country.

DISADVANTAGES:

1. Excess bone and waste must be trimmed before cutting.
2. Thirty percent higher transportation cost is a waste of fuel energy.
3. Paying for 28 to 32 percent waste that never reaches your freezer.
4. Price per pound is less but take home meat is higher in cost.
5. Weight loss is due to open air exposure.

THE NEW WAY TO BUY BEEF.

Boxed Beef is only the useable portions of the carcass skillfully trimmed and packaged through ultra-modern processing, then vacuum sealed and boxed for ease of handling. Cutting these portions to desired roasts and steaks does not require a trained butcher. In fact, many housewives across the country prepare the boneless cuts to their own requirements right in their kitchens. What a fine way to get just exactly the cuts you need and save dollars on quality beef at the same time. However, on any Boxed Beef purchase you make with us we gladly cut and wrap it to your own specifications.

ADVANTAGES:

1. Boxed Beef is naturally aged, thanks to its patented vacuum wrapping.
2. More sanitary—less bacteria.
3. You buy meat without the surplus waste fat and bone.
4. You save money in buying meat instead of bone, fat, and trimmings.
5. Quality controlled beef. Only the best beef is selected to go in the Boxed Beef program.
6. You can buy only the part of the beef that you want.

Security to the elderly offered by 'Lifeline' plan

If you have an elderly or disabled family member who lives alone, you probably worry. What if she falls? What if he has another stroke? Or heart attack?

St. Elizabeth Medical Center now offers a community service that can give you and your family member greater peace of mind, without interfering with anyone's independence. It's a personal emergency response system called "Lifeline."

The system consists of an easily-installed transmitter unit that hooks into the telephone system in the subscriber's home. If assistance is needed, the disabled person presses the "help" button located on the unit itself or a wireless device, about the size of a transistor radio, that can be clipped to a belt or carried in a pocket.

The transmitter sends a signal to St. Elizabeth's where medical center personnel immediately call the subscriber back to find out what the problem is. Someone will then be sent to the subscriber's home to administer aid, if necessary.

If the subscriber is unable to answer the telephone, medical center personnel contact "responders," friends, neighbors, or relatives who have agreed to be available to go to the subscriber's home, if there is an emergency. In the event that none of the responders can be reached, the medical center will call the police or send an ambulance to the home.

When the responder arrives at the subscriber's home, he or she presses the "reset" button on the transmitter unit to notify the medical center that help has arrived.

The home unit has an optional timing device that must be reset twice a day. If the subscriber is unable to reset it, the medical center is automatically alerted. The timing device can be turned off when the subscriber plans to be away from home.

The "Lifeline" system was invented in 1976 by Dr. Andrew Dlbner, a Boston University professor and a specialist in gerontology and rehabilitation.

Disinformed and elderly people prefer to be independent. He believed that rapid telephone access to health care facilities would make it possible for more people to continue living at home, instead of being placed in nursing homes.

According to the results of a three-year study of the "Lifeline" system, conducted by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, the program not only improves the quality of life for elderly persons, it also reduces the cost of long term care. For example, in one of the three target groups studied, it was found that a $1 investment in Lifeline was estimated to result in a net savings of more than $7 in long-term care costs.

The Lifeline equipment in use at St. Elizabeth Medical Center was donated by the local Disabled American Veterans organization.

The cost of the service is $8.50 per month. More information about the Lifeline program is available from Ralph Hausmann, director of social work, at 1-798-3018.

'Pick-a-plan' for air monitoring

By GEORGEANN MCGEE

The Granite City Air Pollution Control Office, once the Granite City Air Pollution Department, will soon undergo another change, either by phasing out local air monitoring duties or turning over all the functions of air quality control to the state.

City Engineer Monroe Brewer, who now doubles as the city's air control director, said Friday the state has just notified him a new city-state air pollution service control has been written in Springfield. Brewer said he expected the contract to arrive here at any time.

Depending on the feelings of the Air Pollution Control Board tomorrow night, President R. William Roter said members will determine whether or not to go with the contract as the elimination by the department. Members will meet at 7 p.m. at the township hall, 21st Street and Delmar Avenue, just prior to the Granite City Council meeting scheduled to start an hour later.

Roter said he has "some serious misgivings" on the quality of the air control office as the result of mid-July cuts of the full-time Air Pollution Engineer Paula Case, and the full-time inspector.

Roter said that, as far as he is able to determine, the city is now fully funding a crippled air control office and not sure it is worth the money being spent. Brewer said, no plant inspections have been made since September while the city awaits state approval of a new shared city-state duties proposal.

Meanwhile, the city's manpower remains too low to carry out all previous duties. Only one full-time employee remains in air control.

Facing a grant loss because of the reduced capacities, Brewer proposed reducing air pollution duties and submitting a smaller grant proposal.

about half of the previous year — in an outline submitted in a Dec. 1 letter to the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency request which now is holding the grant purse strings.

Brewer's letter is presumably the basis for the expected IEPA revised contract.

The city engineer is asking the state to take over air monitoring duties to free the city's remaining full-time air control employee to resume plant inspections and to respond to residents' complaints.

Included in Brewer's proposal designed to obtain 50 percent IEPA funding for a $51,840 budget — are one-third of the $34,466 city engineer salary; a third of the salary of a $12,951 secretarial position; the entire salaries of a $17,141 full-time technician and a $3,500 technical secretary, and $7,782 for employee benefits.

Part of Roter's misgivings concern the amount of work the city engineer can actually give to the air control office, compared to the approximately 13 hours a week set in the budget. "I'm not sure there's enough time with the city engineer's other duties," Roter said.

A worksheet report given to board members in September listed the city engineer and secretary as spending a fourth of their time on air pollution activities.

According to the Dec. 1 proposal, "The budget calls for an estimated one-third time spent by the city engineer and his secretary. This time would involve some administration and also assistance at plant inspections."

Brewer said he would assist the city's air pollution technician in plant inspections that require more than one person. The proposal also says the assistant city engineer is certified as a smoke reader and would use some of the time outlined in the budget.

Roter said his concerns of the ability of the air pollution office to function in the future are based on current problems as well as those of the past few months. He said he noticed a sudden decrease in information flowing between the board and the air pollution control office after some air pollution employees were dismissed in July.

"I used to be kept informed," Roter said. Now he feels like he is "spinning his wheels."

Since July, Roter found a "significant decrease" in general observation and plant inspections. Since September, he has received one plant inspection report. At the September meeting of the Air Pollution Board, no plant visits were reported either for July or August.

Without inspection reports, Roter said, the city has no evidence to present in court cases against air pollution offenders. Without plant observations, the city has no way of knowing who the polluters are.

Both Brewer and Roter agree that even if the state accepts the new arrangement — and the state, so far, has given no indication it would not — it will take the state's new Illinois IEPA office about five months before the EPA is fully able to take over the air sampling duties.

During this transition period, as the city takes over surveillance and the state takes over air sampling, it remains in question how many plant inspections and observations can be handled by either party. According to new contract proposal, the city is counting on some funding to cover that period.

Other than $44,234 for salaries, the budget includes $1,200 for safety equipment, $1,500 for education and travel, $606 for office supplies, $12,100 for services such as copying and telephones, and $2,325 for automobile expenses.

In the proposal, the city requests the flexibility to expand the program back to its previous level and the U.S. EPA-funded program at some future date.

The city's previous grant came directly from the federal government after a satisfactory work arrangement had been signed with the state. After cuts in the Granite City air pollution staff, the federal government cancelled the grant, and the city decided to give the $43,953 grant to the state.

The state will determine how much of the grant to return to the city, James Maloney, assistant to the state air pollution director, said the funds returned to the city will depend on the city's ability to provide sufficient manpower for air control services.

Alderman Casmer Skubish of the First Ward, a member of the air pollution committee, told city council members at their last meeting that tomorrow's Air Pollution Board meeting may be the final one held. Skubish has said previously that the state may decide to use the city's grant money to replenish its own budget in these tight fiscal times.

Terrell heads UW

Bill H. Terrell was elected president of the Tri-Cities Area United Way Friday afternoon at the first-quarter meeting of the group at the YMCA.

His election and the subsequent meeting were preceded by the annual meeting of the United Way, chaired by outgoing President William P. Donovan, who welcomed the board of directors to the final meeting ending the United Way year.

Routine reports including the minutes of the last board meeting, the treasurer's report, and the nominating committee report were read and approved by the directors.

The 1981 campaign report was read in part by Mel Wilmmsmeyer, chairman, to the group as was the budget and allocations committee report, the latter by Elinor Null, co-chairperson of the committee.

Highlighting the meeting was the presentation of awards to Wilmmsmeyer, retiring campaign chairman, Edward Reeske, retiring executive director of the United Way, and to Marion "Mickey" Goddin, retiring office manager and secretary. She has served in that capacity for the past 35 years.

The annual meeting was adjourned and the first meeting of the new year was called to order by Donovan. Terrell was the first to attend the meeting because of a death in his family.

The meeting began with the nominating committee report given by Mary Jessee in the absence of James Eisenbels, chairman. Nominated and subsequently elected were: Terrell, president; Darryl Slater, vice president; Lou Konzen, secretary; and Paul Costello, treasurer.

Terrell is the area manager and owner of the Bill H. Terrell Agency for the Franklin County area.

He was named as office stenographer.

campaign chairman of the United Way in 1976, the first year a campaign surpassed the $500,000 mark.

He resides at 31 Oaklawn Drive with his wife JoAnn and their son Robbie.

Slater chaired the meeting in the absence of Terrell and was presented a gavel by retiring president William Donovan.

Robbery attempt; nab armed man

With Madison, Venice and Granite City police alerted about a robbery attempt in the parking lot across the street from a supermarket, 2301 Illinois Ave., at 12:50 p.m. Friday, Edward E. Freeman, 22, of 907 Washington St., Madison, was taken into custody at 1:15 p.m. after a foot chase in West Madison.

He is still being held, on the authority of the Madison County state's attorney's office. Formal charges are being considered for possible filing this week.

Victim of the robbery attempt was Judy Buehler of Granite City. Intervening on her behalf was a grocery bagger, Lindell Simpson, who was already outdoors helping a customer in front of the store.

When an assailant drew a .35-caliber pistol, aimed it at him and appeared to pull the trigger, the pursuing Simpson leaped behind a pile of snow. The man then fled, and police were contacted. It is believed the gun did not discharge.

Simpson recalled seeing a man initially walking toward the store from the area of W. 24th Street and Illinois Avenue.

The man stopped Judy Buehler as she got out of her auto in the parking lot. He told her to give him her purse, but she refused and a struggle ensued.

She was thrown against her auto, the purse falling to the pavement. When Simpson approached to aid the woman, the man left the purse there and ran toward an alley behind the parking lot.

Simpson pursued him. As he approached within about 20 feet of the man, the assailant spun around, aimed the gun with both arms braced, and apparently squeezed the trigger.

The store employee threw himself behind a nearby mound of snow. The man then ran toward W. 24th and next toward Missouri Avenue, and a description of him was broadcast.

An identification was made after a suspect was arrested.

Former GC man accident victim

A former Granite City man was killed early Friday in a hit-and-run accident on a residential street in Mount Vernon, police said. The authorities are considering charges against a woman whom they said admitted driving the car that hit him.

Raymond E. Shely, 23, of Mount Vernon, was pronounced dead at 2:30 a.m. Friday at the accident scene, in the 700 block of East 24th St., Mount Vernon, by Jefferson County Deputy Coroner Roger Irvin.

The former Granite City man was employed at a used car dealership in Mount Vernon. Among his survivors is a son, Michael E., and two daughters, Janet and Jean Ann, all of Granite City.

According to Mount Vernon Police Chief Ron Massey, the police were called by a 24th Street resident who heard a noise and found Shely's body in the road. Another resident told police she thought the hit-and-run vehicle was red with a white top.

After the police discovered a broken taillight shield near the body, they followed information which led them to the home of the driver's parents, where the car was found with blood and other matter around dents in the front right fender, police said.

Police arrested a 23-year-old Mount Vernon woman, who Massey said admitted driving the car that hit Shely. But, he added, she was held only briefly and released on the advice of Jefferson County State's Attorney Robert Shuff.

Another icy weekend; fire ruins home

Another frigid weekend occurred in the Quad-City area, the second in a row. A minus-15 temperature had been recorded a week ago, and the mercury fell to minus-8 at 9 a.m. this Saturday.

Above-freezing temperatures are being predicted for today and tomorrow.

As is usual during severe winter weather, fire poses special hazards in residential areas, and this weekend was no exception.

A blaze that broke out at 10:25 p.m. Friday and caused $40,000 damage—$30,000 to the building and $10,000 to the contents.

Location was a two-story frame home owned and occupied by Joyce Evans at 1739 Delmar Ave. Firemen were at the scene until nearly 1 a.m.

An electrical space heater in a bathroom had set fire to towels, and the flames spread through the bathroom and down a hall.

The one-story frame residence of Linda Goodman at 2131 Missouri Ave. was the scene of a fire at 11:10 p.m. Friday. A space heater ignited clothing in the basement, causing $600 fire and smoke damage to contents of the home.

At 2:30 a.m. Sunday, firemen went to the apartment of Debra Murphy, 4303 Kirkpatrick Homes, where a cigarette had set fire to a mattress. Loss to the contents was $400.

A water main break at 1 p.m. Saturday caused problems for traffic in the 4000 block of Braden Avenue.

At 6:10 p.m. Saturday, an apparent water break covered Cargill Road with ice, necessitating a barricading of the roadway.

At 9:45 p.m. Saturday, police rescued a motorist whose auto had stalled in sub-zero weather along West Pontoon Road.

Youngsters were admonished for throwing iceballs at 6 p.m. Sunday in the vicinity of Niedringhaus School.

Residency hearing on congressman

A hearing will be held tomorrow on whether Congressman Melvin Price is meeting the requirements for residence in his district.

A special electoral board will receive testimony at 1 p.m. Tuesday at the St. Clair County board room in Belleville on an objection filed by Dr. Cecil Clinch, husband of one of Price's Democratic primary opponents, Sandra Clinch.

Members of the panel are Circuit Judge William Johnson of Madison County, Circuit Judge Stephen Kernan of St. Clair County, Bond County State's Attorney Charles V. Romani Jr., Montgomery County Judge Dennis Huber and Clinton County Judge Arthur Henken. Parts of all five counties are in the new 21st Congressional District.

There is no resident judge in Bond County at the present time.

The objection alleges that Cong. Price should be excluded from the March ballot because he actually lives in Washington, D.C., not at the address listed on his nominating petitions, 426 N. 8th St., East St. Louis.

Price's staff says that address is his legal voting address, a residence which he owns. It adds that this complies with Illinois law, even though Price rents the home to someone else.

The five-member panel was chosen by Chief Circuit Judge Joseph Barr of the Third Circuit in Madison-Bond counties. Judge Henken will be the chairman.

THEFT IN VENICE Five watches worth a total of $480, two portable television sets valued at a total of $324, a $77 weight bench with weights, a $92 vase and a $45 pair of shoes were stolen from Joe Compton, 549 Mercedita St., Venice, police were notified Saturday.

COUNTERFEIT $100 Secret Service agents on Friday began checking on an incident in which a counterfeit $100 bill was passed to a financial institution in Granite City.

To learn today the skills employers will demand tomorrow, spend two years in the Army.

For example, a 2-year hitch is just enough time to learn how to become an air traffic controller, broadcast specialist, telecommunications center operator, construction surveyor, dental technician, or one of many specialties in electronics or communications.

For ambitious people, civilian success can begin within the Army. For more information, call 800-423-3673. In California, 800-282-5864.
